Homer Hilton, Culver Nichols Last to File

Enter Just Ahead of Noon Deadline

Eight candidates are in the April 10 councilmanic election race. Two more, Homer Hilton and Culver Nichols, filed this morning before the noon deadline. Hilton will oppose Mayor Florian Boyd in District No. 7, and Nichols will oppose incumbent Earle Strebe and Leonard Wolf, Jr., in District No. 3.

The only other contested race is in District No. 1 where Ray Corliss is seeking to unseat incumbent Ted McKinney. Ruth Hardy is unopposed in District No. 5. Nichols, a Realtor here since 1932, has been active in civic affairs since that time. He has previously served on the city council, was chairman of the Riverside county planning commission, president of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce and of the Lions Club.

In addition, he heads the White-water Mutual Water Co., and remains active in the Chamber of Commerce and Real Estate Board. He served as president of the Palm Springs Community Hospital Association, and was a member of the Committee for Incorporation of the City of Palm Springs.

A graduate of Stanford university, where he received his A.B. degree in 1926, he has taken postgraduate work at the School of Business Administration of Harvard, and at the C. G. Jung Institute in Zurich, Switzerland. He is 50 years old. Hilton, who has had an extensive and successful business background has been a resident here several years. He was vice president in charge of sales of Argus Camera Company, Ann Arbor, Michigan, for 15 years; in charge of sales and advertising for the Ansco Film, Chemical and Camera Corporation for 10 years, and was in charge of sales nationally for the Bell and Howell Camera Company of Chicago.

During World War II, he was in charge of disposing of war surplus through the U. S. Treasury, and was director of price stabilization for the OPA in the State of Virginia.

He owns extensive property in Palm Springs.

L.A. County Now Nation's Biggest in Retail Sales

LOS ANGELES — Los Angeles County has officially passed Cook County, Ill., and becomes the top-ranking county in the United States in retail store sales, U.S. Bureau of Census figures showed today.

Los Angeles not only led the nation's major counties in percentage gain, 49.5 per cent, but its retail sales growth of $2.2 billion far exceeded any other county, the report showed.

New York's Manhattan Borough retained its third place national ranking. Cook County had a 22.9 per cent gain and New York 6.7.

Robins and Snow Arrive in Village

Robins came to Palm Springs today, and brought a touch of snow from the cooler climate to which they are accustomed. The robins were sighted this morning by Joseph Crone, 1015 South Calle Marcus.

About the same time a few flurries of snow surprised Villagers, who have to go to the mountains to enjoy the white crystals.

Indian Wells Club Project Gets New Spur

A seventh partner and clearer definition of plans today gave the Indian Wells Country Club momentum toward completion before the beginning of next winter's season.

Lyn Johnson, a Hollywood advertising executive, has joined the group of six Thunderbird Country Club affiliates who late in January took the first step toward construction of a $250,000 18-hole golf course and country club located seven miles east of Thunderbird on Highway 111.

The basic premise of the Indian Wells club is low-cost housing and membership. According to Paul Prom, who is coordinating activities for the group, membership and restriction policy is still in the planning stage, with the group's immediate goal being completion of the first nine holes and a clubhouse on the 160 acres.

Plans include about 125 lots and homes bordering the course. They are expected to cost no more than $15,000 each.

One of the features of the course that will set it off from the three already in the Palm Springs area is the proposed hilly contour of the course.

Members of the group are Milt Hicks, Erroll Murphy, Phil Harris, Desi Arnaz, Prom, Johnson and Eddie Susalla.

2 Phone Firms Ask Hearings on Area Service

Public hearings to determine if extended service between Palm Desert and Palm Springs is feasible will be held in this area, according to a dispatch today from San Francisco.

Application for the hearing was placed before the State Public Utilities Commission by the California Water and Telephone Company and the Coachella Valley Home Telephone and Telegraph Company, the dispatch indicated.

Both firms are seeking to determine if such service is feasible and if so will ask the Public Utilities Commission to establish suitable rates.

AT THE SAME time, it was learned exclusively by The Desert Sun that an independent investigation of the services rendered subscribers by both of these companies is still under way.

Civic organizations like Chambers of Commerce in Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs, Cathedral City, Palm Desert and Rancho Mirage, indicated that if a public hearing is to be held in this area by the Public Utilities Commission it shall not be held during Summer months.

It was pointed out at a recent hearing to determine the nature of complaints by residents to the southeast of Palm Springs, presided over by Melvin Mezek, senior telephone engineer for PUC, that any investigation or hearings of services rendered by either of the telephone companies would "be of no value in solving the problems facing subscribers if the hearings are held at the end of the Winter season."

IT WAS ALSO learned by The Desert Sun that the California Water and Telephone Company and the Coachella utility had complied with an earlier edict by the PUC to "correct deficiency in service and submit plans for extended service between Palm Desert and Palm Springs."

These plans have been under study for the last few days and the press dispatch from San Francisco indicates that engineering studies of these plans by PUC engineers have been completed.

Billy Daniels Indicted in N.Y.

Billy Daniels, 40-year-old singer, was indicted today by a New York grand jury in connection with a night club shooting last month in Harlem.

At the time Daniels was released on $2500 bail on charges of felonious assault and concealed weapons so he could appear at Los Angeles and Palm Springs night clubs.

He was indicted on five counts. The criminal charges were enlarged to two counts each of second degree assault and concealed weapons, and one count of discharging a firearm in a public place.

Daniels has seven days left at Chi Chi restaurant, where he is currently appearing.

WINE IN THE DESERT

Somewhere under "The Algodones" fascinating sand dunes (30 miles west of Yuma, Arizona) near Gordon's Well. "Yes, it's true." Under its dunes is a freight wagon filled with the finest champagne from France.

One of the most amusing of the desert tales is that of the freight wagon loaded with champagnes, bound for the tables of the dons in the pueblos of San Diego and Los Angeles. Crossing the sand dunes, the freighters were struck by a sudden violent sand storm. As the flying sand settled about the wagon, the drivers cut loose their mules and rode on them before the storm and to safety. Returning later they found only a sea of dunes where the wagon should have been, and never since has the cargo of champagne been seen.

New Rule Shifts Order of Call for Army Draft

WASHINGTON — The White House announced today that Selective Service will begin to draft younger men into the armed forces.

It made public an executive order, signed by President Eisenhower, scrapping the former system of taking the oldest draft-eligible men first and working down.

The new plan does not change the present 18 to 35 draft age limits. But it puts those in the age group of 25 down through 19, who are not fathers, at the top of the list to be called first. The oldest in the group would be called first.

The second category of men to be called consists of those 25 down through 19 who are fathers. Again, the oldest will be called first in this category. There are 150,000 in this group.

The third group in order of call would be 26-year-olds and older regardless of whether they are fathers.

The fourth and last group would begin with the oldest 18-year-old regardless of his status as a parent, the order said.

SNOWSTORM MAROONS FAMILIES IN NORTHWEST; RAINS HIT SOUTH

By UNITED PRESS

An icy snowstorm marooned families in the Pacific Northwest today and flooding rains pounded the Southland.

The Northwest cold and snows closed schools and blocked roads in Eastern Washington's Douglas and Okanogan Counties. Many Douglas County families, marooned for four days by drifted roads, were reported running low on food and fuel.

TEMPERATURES plunged to 20 degrees below zero in the snow-bound area and forecasters could see no immediate warmup. At Seattle, a 17-above reading made it the coldest Feb. 15 on record. Sub-zero cold also gripped the Rocky Mountain States, along with snows which were expected to mount to blizzard proportions in Colorado and Wyoming by tomorrow. Low temperatures early today included 29 below at both Cutbank and Lewistown in Montana and 17 below at Sheridan, Wyo.

Temperatures were balmy in the Southland, but they teamed up with torrential rains which triggered flash floods at New Orleans and Hot Springs, Ark.

The water lapped over street curbs at New Orleans, where more than three inches of rain pounded down in two hours yesterday. Car backwashes forced the water into stores.

Earlier, the worst flood in 33 years sent water running four feet deep down Hot Springs' Central Avenue. A woman was swept to her death from the top of her car. Floodwaters crashed through store windows. Damage was estimated at at least $250,000.

Violent weather claimed two other lives in Dixie. A tornado killed one person near Sugar Loaf, Ark., and a pilot died when his jet F84F Thunderstreak crashed while trying to make an instrument landing in Florida.

Nursery Owner Freed in City Contract Charge

Roy Wehrle, owner of Wehrle's Tree Service and Nursery, Cathedral City, was acquitted today of a criminal charge that he performed work for the City of Palm Springs without being a licensed contractor.

Judge Eugene Theriault ruled there was insufficient evidence that Wehrle had entered into a contract with City Manager Robert W. Peterson.

The charge was filed by Guy Eldridge, investigator for the State Contract Board, through the Riverside county district attorney's office, on behalf of the people of California. Deputy D. A. James Kellam represented the plaintiff. Wehrle was charged after Eldridge found he did not have a license to remove four cottonwood trees and a cottonwood stump from Via Miraleste. Peterson was the only witness. His testimony showed that the defendant had not entered into a contract, but had signed an agreement with Peterson, who was acting in his capacity as city purchasing agent. The agreement, called a purchase order, stated that Wehrle would remove the trees on an hourly labor basis, and that his charge would not exceed $325.

SONG AND MUSIC of the late Al Jolson found in the symmetry and beauty of the estate he left behind must have led Donald Duncan, parking meter tycoon and Yo-Yo king, to purchase the famous home and grounds. The estate consists of a main house, guest house and a large swimming pool. The landscaped grounds cover

Police Chief, Judge to Assist with Adult Driving Course

Four prominent Villagers will address the sessions of the course in driver education, it was announced this week by George Manington, night school principal, and by George Bond, district transportation supervisor, who is assisting in the preparation of the course.

Leading off will be Chief of Police Gus Kettmann on February 22, followed in succeeding weeks by Judge Eugene Theriault, justice of the Palm Springs judicial district, Frank Hamerschlag, city public works director, and N.H. 'Toby' Curtis, one of the school district's insurance counselors.

THEY WILL PRESENT one hour talks on related aspects of the course. Other lectures are being lined up for still later sessions in the course which meets at the high school from 7 to 9 p.m.

The course, which started last night, will present a practical approach to the driver's needs as he learns to adjust to himself and to road conditions. Members of the class will be given the opportunity to check themselves with the latest scientific equipment. Al Kazmier, teacher of the course, is prepared to relate data from these tests to the complex problems of today's complex automobile.

THREE ADDITIONAL classes are also just starting, adding to the scope of the night school. These classes and their meeting nights are: law for the layman, Tuesday; sewing, Thursdays; and mathematics refresher, Thursdays.

Those interested in the new swimming class scheduled to start in March are urged to call the school office in the evening in order to register their preference as to day and hours for class sessions.

The Adult Evening School is a division of the Palm Springs Unified School District. Schedules of classes showing the full course offerings of the school are available at both branches of the public library and at the Chamber of Commerce. Registrations are now being taken at the high school office during the evenings for all classes. Those desiring further information are asked to call 2393.

Speaker Warns of War Danger in Middle East

"The Middle East is an explosive hot bed where a spark might set off another world war," Bruce Thomas, foreign correspondent, author and lecturer who is now a Village home owner, told members of Rotary yesterday noon at the Tennis club.

This part of the world has always been the spring board of conquerors, and is the most dangerous area in the world, he continued, adding that the historical enmity between the Arabs and the Jews is a tough problem for the British and Americans, and is fraught with danger.

Thomas said he did not think that "we, our children or grandchildren would ever see World War III," explaining that conflicts may be confined to certain areas as all nations know that an atomic war would destroy them.

There were 123 visiting Rotarians, and a score of guests at the meeting, making it one of the largest sessions on record here.

Dr. John Lechner of Los Angeles will be the speaker at next Wednesday's luncheon meeting. His topic will be "Communist Activities in the United States."

Lieutenant Governor Harold J. Powers, state Senator Nelson S. Dilworth and Assemblyman Lee M. Backstrand teamed up to cut the wide expanse of unusually decorated "ribbon" that opened the newly completed freeway west of Beaumont.

Through the efforts of the Riverside County Board of Trade, the unique ribbon that marked the beginning of the new freeway portion of California's important cross-country tourist artery was decorated with product-samples from communities in Riverside County that are located along the highway route.

THERE WERE ORANGES from Riverside, cherries from the Beaumont-Cherry Valley area, almonds from Banning, Coachella Valley dates, plus a wide variety of agricultural products representing Palo Verde crops.

Short talks were made by Lt. Gov. Powers, Senator Dilworth

By BILL RASHALL

All of us who voted for those bonds and lost, and those of us who voted against some of those proposals and saw them come up as winners, the battle is over. Come on, let's get together and strive forward into what the future may hold and what proportion of it we may still be able to mold. Nuf said on that subject.

This is still the greatest place in the world in which to live come both Winter and Summer and it is going to be greater, no matter who may stand in the path of its growth and popularity.

Now comes Mr. Homer Hilton, resident of Palm Springs for several years and who has become so infatuated with life in our town to exclaim: "I want to work again right here in Palm Springs. I am intent on living the rest of my life in Palm Springs and I believe I definitely can be of value to this growing city by running for city council."

This morning he filed to run in opposition to Florian Boyd.

AND THEN ALONG came Culver Nichols, with whom I used to have a word or two years ago when he was a member of city council to say:

"Bill, I am in the race for city council against Earl Strebe and I am urgently soliciting your support." I live in his district, you know. A third candidate in this district is Leonard Wolf, Villager for eight years and a building contractor, who is also running in this same district for a three-way battle.

By the way, all incumbents are in the race, and all opposed except Mrs. Ruth Hardy.

RALPH HANCOCK, famous author and former newspaperman, appeared in a new role before a group of men last night at the Biltmore hotel. He is public relations and publicity chairman for Herman Reich, candidate for Congress from this district.

"I'm not much of a public speaker," Hancock whispered to someone nearby when he was called upon to address the group. Then you should have heard that guy talk. He really is good. And they say that writers cannot talk!

THE FOLLOWING is about the cutest story I have heard in a long time. It truthfully goes this way:

All the little boys and girls entered their kindergarten room at St. Theresa's and it didn't take more than one guess that something special was going to take place.

It was a birthday party. All of the little girls were daintily attired in their best and all of the little boys had their hair plastered down and shoes shining.

Each carried a pretty little package in tiny hands obviously for the one who was to be honored on his natal day. Dutifully each deposited the gifts they carried where they were told to do so and then lined up for their cookies ice cream and candy. It was a small party. A delightful one, too, because the mother of the honored guest was present to see that each little tyke had a good time. But there was something missing. And that was the honored guest, Thomas "Fag" Kieley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kieley.

You see, the party had to go on in spite of the fact that Fag was home sick with the mumps. Oh me, oh my!

SOMEHOW, Paul Summit, director of special service at the Unified School District, and I have never been able to compare our notes on the completion of a story reported in this column several weeks ago. At that time it was reported that a young student, orphaned and living with aged grandparents was in need of a home.

Paul finally selected a home for the young man after the story appeared here. He reports that the lad is doing fine and in the best of environment. Summit wants to complete the story for me by giving me the name of the foster parents, the new found brother and all of the rest of the story that ends like a fairy tale. He'll be giving it to me one of these days yet, I hope.

AND TOUGH AS Mickey Cohen may be, according to his reputation, he was a meek, mild and tame guy when Chief August Kettmann listened to his tirade and then calmly walked away.

Captain David Finne Jr., of Oceanside, stationed at Camp Pendleton Marine Base heard through a friend of his here that Billy Daniels was appearing in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi. He rushed his wife to the family vehicle and started for Palm Springs. He got here safe and sound alright, but imagine driving a hundred miles to see and hear an entertainer, and believe it or not, then rushing back to his automobile and driving all the way back to his home town.

That's "Black Magic" for you in anybody's language, even the kind a Marine can use when occasion demands.

Puentes Enters Plea of Guilty

Rumaldo V. Puentes, of 372 East Andreas Road, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while being intoxicated and of being convicted of the same offense previously.

Judge Hilton McCabe of Riverside County Superior Court in Indio accepted the plea and set March 2 as sentencing date. A probation department recommendation will be considered before then.

Puentes a hospital maintenance man, had earlier pleaded not guilty of causing an injury while driving under the influence of liquor.

He was charged originally after arresting officers said he had been driving north on Palm Canyon Drive November 28, and while making a turn onto Alejo Road, struck a woman who was in a crosswalk.

The injured party, Betty Creighton, was treated at Desert Hospital for minor injuries, and released that same night.

McCall Refuses to Vote; SMC Bill Payment Denied

By THELMA GOODSPEED

PALM DESERT — Supervisor Fred McCall of Hemet refused to vote Tuesday on a motion to approve payment of a bill from Shadow Mountain Club at Palm Desert for a debt incurred by members of the county planning commission, members of their staff, and counsel amounting to $51.

"Being an ex-planning commissioner I refuse to take any part in the discussion and am passing my vote," declared McCall.

The other four supervisors voted two to two, with Berky and Anderson voting to approve payment, and Warren and Jones voting against it. As a result the vote to pay the bill did not carry.

THE BILL was first presented to the board two weeks ago and was referred to the county administrative officer for a "full and complete report."

The occasion for the dinner for 12 at $4.25 per plate, was a field trip inspecting subdivisions and road problems in the Coachella Valley between Palm Springs and Indio, and a public hearing on zoning in the evening at La Quinta. County Planning Director Tyler Sues advised the supervisors Tuesday. He said there were no facilities in La Quinta where the commission could have dinner and the nearest other facilities of a suitable nature were either in Palm Springs or Indio and "inconveniently located."

Supervisor Berky asked, "What sort of authorization is there for this sort of thing? Did they have the right to assume it would be O. K.?"

"THE COUNTY PLACES, no limitation on payment of meals," replied Supervisor Jones.

"Then I don't think we have any alternative but to pay the bill," said Supervisor Berky. "It would seem though that perhaps a limitation should be established."

Supervisor Anderson said that only a few go over the amount which the county might be expected to pay and that it would be difficult to establish a maximum. "In this case," he observed, "it was in a district where meals are high priced to begin with."

Rosine Delevops Six New Pools

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Howard Rosine of San Marino, president of the Highlands Hot Springs Corporation, with Mrs. Rosine and their son, Don, is spending a good deal of time here this winter, during the development of the six natural hot water pools at Desert Hot Springs Highlands.

Operation of the pools is expected to begin in the next few weeks.

Don Rosine, a 29-year-old post-olio patient, will manage the pools, and later assume management of the Highlands clubhouse which is now in the planning stage.

The Rosines are making their winter home in DHS at the Estrellita Apartments.

Supervisors to Visit Blythe

A letter from John Clayopol in behalf of the Palo Verde Valley Chamber of Commerce extended an invitation to the supervisors to meet with the people of the Blythe area some time in March or April.

Supervisor Anderson said Tuesday, March 6, at 1:30 is the time chosen for the session. The meeting place is still to be named.

Never before a Lincoln so long... and so longed-for

This longest, lowest of all Lincolns is total newness. In every distinctive line it says: this is the one and only completely new fine car of the year. There is a fresh newness here... of beauty, of power, of performance... that has won instant acclaim from those who instinctively recognize the finest.

Laze through traffic with incredible agility... leap around highway slow-pokes... float up the steepest mountain grade and you'll know at last how a fine car can step.

Lincoln Performance! Here's roadability you've never dared imagine. Unique ball-joint suspension, married to Lincoln's scant 5 feet of lowness, locks you sure-footed and safe to the sharpest of curves.

America's motoring trend-setters have taken Lincoln to their hearts... in truly marvelous numbers. Are you, perhaps, denying yourself an experience that should be yours... the adventure of Lincoln?

Why Some Bonds Failed

There are three pretty obvious reasons why two-thirds of the voters at last Tuesday's bond election failed to approve $3,145,000 for four of the major capital improvements proposed — and dealt a blow to the growth and progress of this resort community. It is an unfortunate situation which has brought about this setback.

In the first place it is plain to be seen that people are beginning to rebel against taxes. Other cities are suffering. Although the tax rate for Palm Springs is lower than the average of other cities in the county, the total tax bill for Federal, state, county — and a hundred hidden taxes — is becoming burdensome. That is why some badly needed improvements in many cities are being held up. Tax increases resulting from bond issues is something people get a chance to vote on; and when a third of them can prevent the passage of improvement bonds it makes it difficult to get the issues approved. While the Airport acquisition and Municipal Golf Course proposals might be looked upon by some people as community promotion measures, the need for a sanitary sewer system should be recognized by everyone. Still, the voters would not approve (not two-thirds of them) the $1,870,000 initial cost. This measure was likely rejected mainly because it was the most costly.

It now seems quite apparent that too many capital improvements were submitted to the voters at one time. It added up to a lot of money, and a rather sizable tax increase, and the people just wouldn't go for all of them. Voters seemed to be inclined to approve only the small issues — so put their OK on McCallum Way opening, the Tachevah flood control proposal and lighting and palm tree planting program for South Palm Canyon and Indian Avenue. These three issues amounted to only $410,000 out of the total of $3,555,000 for all the capital improvements. While these small improvements will be some help to the community, they were really only the crumbs off the table. The City could almost have financed them without a bond issue.

Lastly — and an important factor in the failure of the major improvements — is the reluctance of many who own homes but not businesses here to help share the cost of the projects submitted to the voters by the City Council. They complain about high taxes even though it is a fact that the Palm Springs rate is considerably less than many of the cities where these people established businesses and homes before purchasing winter homes in Palm Springs. Many do not vote here but they influence other voters and alarm the people about high taxes. The city suffers accordingly. They do not take into consideration — knowingly or intentionally — that the city rate here is not high, specially for a growing resort community which has its visitors to consider as well as home owners.

It is becoming more and more apparent that this type of home owner must recognize the unfairness of their position, and to a considerable extent, the shortsightedness of such an attitude. They must be willing to accept their fair share of the cost of needed civic improvements which make the city more attractive to visitors, create local prosperity and increase property values. The improvements, will, of course, be made in the course of time; all these people can do is delay them.

With these three handicaps to overcome and a two-thirds majority required, it is pretty easy to see the reason for the failure of the Sewer, Airport, Golf Course and DeMuth Park bonds to pass.

A rather serious problem now faces the City Council. It will have to start all over again a study of the long-considered capital improvements that were turned down. It seems quite possible that the Council will decide to submit some of the most needed projects at separate bond elections in the future even though it would be more expensive that way. More than likely the people would have looked upon some of the issues differently if they had not been considered along with so many others.

This bond election also brought out the need for a very large Citizens Committee that can work along with the City Council and carry out an educational program on the problems and needs of Palm Springs.

The Value of Saving
(Chester, S.C., New)

While we pose as no experts, and are usually not too free with personal advice to our readers, we would like to suggest to readers of this newspaper that the year 1956 would be an appropriate one in which to begin, or increase, your personal savings.

National statistics show that the amount of consumer credit extended in 1955 was a record high. However, this alone should not cause alarm, since personal savings also increased. Personal savings increased as did consumer credit because Americans had higher wages, salaries and profits in 1955 than ever before. In addition, more money was paid out in old age benefits, and in other benefits, than ever before in our history.

Nevertheless, and in spite of the prospect for good business in 1956, every citizen should realize that every year cannot be a boom year and every year will not be a good year for all business. The prospect for 1956 is good, but the prospect for 1957 is slightly confused, since no one is sure what party will be in power, or who will be President, or what the international situation will be.

If individuals act prudently and save money in 1956, they will place themselves in a position to be able to survive temporarily depressed times. We are of the opinion that no major depression, like that experienced in 1930-31, will overtake Americans in the near future.

On the other hand, we do believe there will be adjustments and that those who have cash on hand, when these adjustments come, will be able to ride out the storm, or even take advantage of unusual opportunities. More than that, the saving of money gives one a feeling of independence and peace of mind, and actual security.

If you can do no more than save one percent of your earnings per week, or per month, we suggest you make this a belated resolution in 1956 and stick to it throughout the year, and throughout your life if possible.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

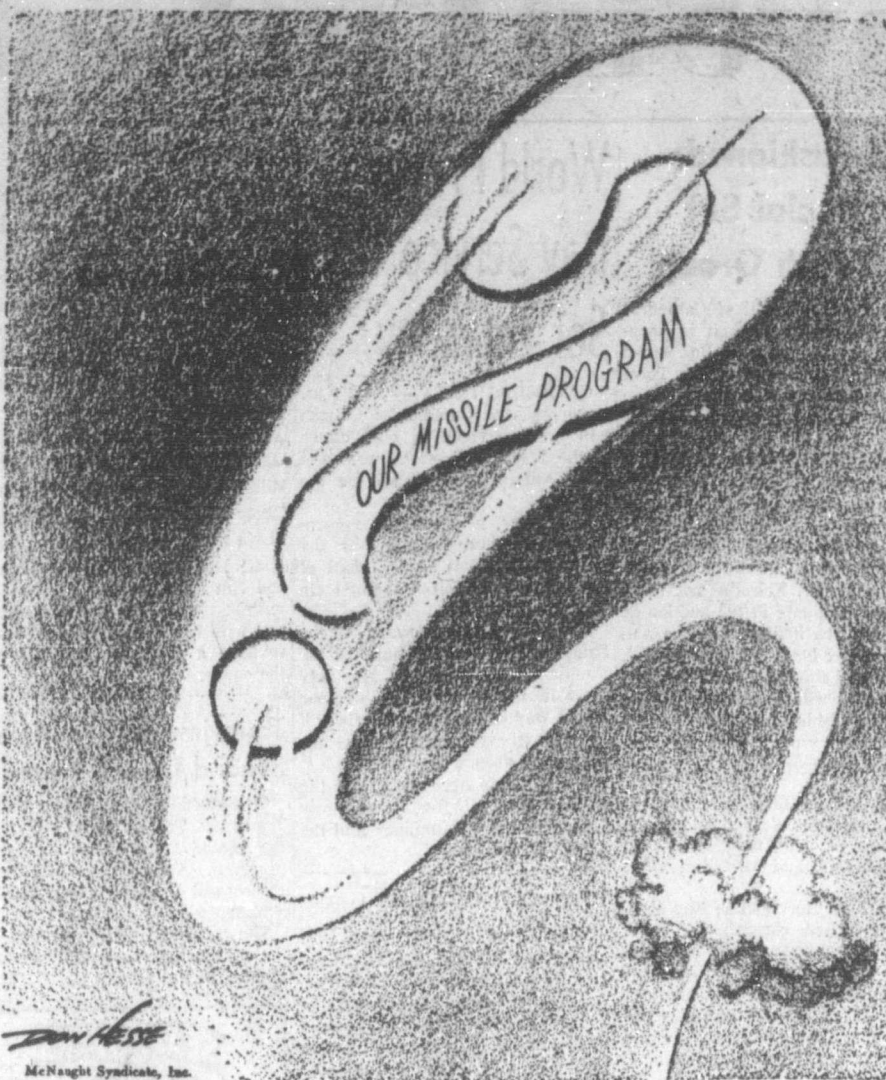

IN BALTIMORE, Harry Paroissien, of Penguin Books, received an order from The Admiral's Bookshop, Venice, Florida, signed by V. G. Butcher. Paroissien wrote thanking Miss Butcher for her interest. Back came this reply:

me as Miss Butcher, you have not pictured some cute little blonde, redhead, or what not, as I am a bronzed, white-haired old Englishman of seventy, late Admiral, before retirement, in Her Majesty's Navy!

There was a young belle in old Natchez
Whose garments were always in patchez
When comment arose
On the state of her clothes,
She drawled, "When ah itchez, ah scratchez!"

THE MOURNING AFTER

The above line popped into my mind this (Wednesday) morning when I became aware of the results of Tuesday's bond election.

Figured it would be an appropriate caption for a poem about the results.

Such as "we have bonds for palm fronds," and "put an o.k. on McCallum Way" but when I got to the municipal golf course, I could see no rhyme, neither reason, for that vote.

And, seeing no rhyme, there could be no poem.

BUT, THE CITIZENS OF Palm Springs voted for a short cut to the airport. Then turned around and voted against a proposal which would have prevented keeping the port runways short.

Personally, I am happy that McCallum Way extension was approved. That is going to save a lot of gasoline money getting to our new city hall and to the airport.

And the boys who have an expense account can still charge the old mileage while taking the new.

This being the winter golf capital of the world, I am sorry that the muni golf course fell flat. It would have given more people a chance to whack the little ball around at a minimum of cost.

WELL, THE ELECTION is over. Results won't stop the great and steady growth of Palm Springs. That can't be done. And there's always tomorrow, as the $2 show bettors at Santa Anita say.

Anyway election day brought forth this bit of verse:

A dry citizen lamented thus:
"The polls are open,
the bars are not,
"Where the deuce,
can I get a shot?"

Just a warning to him—I know of at least four more elections coming up this year.

City council, school board, primaries and general election.

I KNEW I was sticking my neck out to praise the display advertising department yesterday after handing compliments to the classed department the week before.

Comes Orval Risvold, head of the circulation department of The Desert Sun. Said he:

"How about a plug for my boys? From comments I am getting from satisfied customers, our newswies are doing a great job."

"They started from scratch last October. It was a new job for practically all of my boys. But apparently it didn't take them long to learn. From what I hear, they have learned."

I can happily praise the newswies. Because long ago I remember feeling like a business tycoon, selling 20 papers at a penny apiece and making six cents profit. It's different now.

LIGHT READING this week brought to light the following:

A Texas woman called her husband and said:

"Will you get the car out, Tex, and drive the children to the backyard so they can play?" And found where Raymond Duncan said:

"Many a child has grown up to be a level-headed citizen because his parents couldn't find the guidance book they were looking for."

Congressional Report

SCOUT REPORT

The Boy Scouts made their annual "Report to the Nation" last Wednesday and, as usual, there was a breakfast meeting and preview to which I was invited. This is the 46th anniversary of the creation of the Boy Scouts of America, which means they were founded the year your Representative graduated from college in Pennsylvania. I remember as clearly as if it were yesterday the discussions, and the news items, and the stories about Baden-Powell, the founder.

I had been giving several evenings a month to a settlement house near the college and to look at me now, you'd never believe what I did there: coached the boys in gym work! I was captain of the college gym team, which was then an intercollegiate and competitive sport.

There was nothing to fill the place the Scout movement now fills. It has come a long way, from a few Scouts going camping on an island (the name of which I've forgotten) to see how such a project would work out, or from the Scouts of those early years to over 4,100,000 today, with international contacts and relations, and the great encampments here and abroad.

TWO OF US, in the Congress, Brooks Hays of Arkansas and I, have been invited to these breakfasts from the beginning, whether or not there were Scouts there from our home districts. They were conceived by our mutual friend, Dr. Raymond W. Miller of Stockton, who, for some years, was the guiding spirit and the host. In recent years the Scout Council itself carried on the breakfasts and, fortunately for Hays and myself, has continued the habit of inviting us. The number of guests has increased, but the basic idea remains the same: to report to the President, and thus to the people, the accomplishments of the previous year.

I rise to remark that the Boy Scouts are the guided missiles of Peace!

And then here are the Boy Scouts, building an organization year by year devoted to peace; developing friendships not only with other American boys but with boys from other nations, and more important, between the boys of other nations whose ancestors have been periodically fighting each other.

I rise to remark that the Boy Scouts are the guided missiles of Peace!

Durocher did. He had a special birthday greeting made up in Braille.

Perle for Ambassador

NEW YORK—I got a simple little letter the other day—no news, no gossip, no Big Names—from Ernie Paukovec, a reader in Russellton, Pa., which made the Glamour Beat seem dull. "A very touching sight greeted me the other morning," he wrote, "as I looked out my window and saw two small boys, one about 6, the other about 8, tugging at the frozen body of their pet mongrel dog which apparently had been killed by a car. They would tug and drag a while, then stop and lift its useless head and pet it and speak to it. I had an uncontrollable lump in my throat as I hurriedly turned away."

A certain Hollywood producer, says Tony Pettito, told his secretary, "My trouble is, I don't have time to do half the things I do!" . . . When Thunderbird owners loftily ask the Embassadors Chris, whether he can drive their car, he says, "Oh, sure—I can drive a Ford."

Perle Mesta for Ambassador to Italy? 'Twas whispered as a possibility at Earl Blackwell's black-tie party for Perle at Eden Roc. Howard Lindsay, co-author of "Call Me Madam," which lampooned Perle, paid her a tribute. He said she graciously entertained him in Luxembourg, then asked what the script (already finished) was about. "I thought of Irving Berlin and Russell Crouse, my associates, and my bank balance," he added, "and didn't tell her." He added, "She is quite a gal!"

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

800 Security Cases Dropped

WASHINGTON — The Justice

Department disposed of more than 800 espionage and other security cases last year—without prosecuting a single one of them.

Attorney General Brownell has also decided to drop two long-pending headline cases:

Judy Coplon, one-time Justice employee, whose 1950 espionage conviction was ordered retried by a Federal Circuit Court on the ground that illegal (wire-tapping) evidence was used against her.

William Z. Foster, head of the Communist party in the U.S., whose 1949 indictment has never been tried because of a claimed serious heart condition.

These unannounced facts were disclosed by Assistant Attorney General William F. Tompkins during a discussion with members of the House Appropriations Committee.

They wanted to know what his Internal Security Division has done with a 45 percent budget increase that was granted in 1955, for a record total of $1,250,000. Brownell had vigorously urged this raise to enable the Internal Security Division to extend and intensify its activities.

Appropriations Committee members were frankly astonished by Tompkins' statement that more than 800 espionage and other security cases were discarded without a single prosecution.

He explained they were "closed out" for lack of evidence and "other reasons."

The cases were reported from all parts of the country, and included many others besides government employees. Tompkins stated the FBI is used to investigate all charges. In some instances, he indicated, prosecution was decided against to safeguard the secrecy of government agents and informants.

ON THE GRIDDLE — Democratic Committee members were sharply critical of the unannounced shelving of the Coplon and Foster cases. Tompkins was bluntly grilled about this.

"Attorney General Brownell has done a lot of talking about subversion and what he is supposed to be doing about it," Tompkins was told. "But although he has been in office three years, he has done nothing about retrying the Coplon case."

"The only way we can prosecute her," pointed out Tompkins, "is to use wire-tapping evidence."

"Do you want Congress to prosecute her?"

"No," retorted Tompkins, "But we can't do a thing as the law stands now. Congress has to change the law so wire-tapping evidence can be used in espionage cases."

"That might have been done," snapped the lawmaker, "if Mr. Brownell hadn't insisted on having that authority put in his hands. He didn't want it given to the courts; he wanted to have it all. Congress rightly would not do that."

"What's been done about the Foster case?" asked another committee member. "He was indicted way back in 1949 by the Democrats, but you have yet to bring him to trial. Why is that? He is the top Communist in the country."

Tompkins explained that Foster has a "bad heart."

"We have been told that before. But it isn't stopping him from running about the country on Communist business."

"But the court holds his heart condition will not permit his being tried," said Tompkins. "We are keeping a close check on him."

COUTURE SHOE DESIGNER Mr. Stanley will show a collection of exciting new shoe styles at J. W. Robinson's this weekend.

Mr. Stanley Shoes to be Shown Here

The leg revealing clothes of the clinging sheath and the Directorate period look for the Spring and Summer season of 1956, gives shoes a prominent place in the fashion picture. Because of the back-interest in modern fashions the heels of the shoes assume importance.

J. W. Robinson's Palm Springs store will present an exciting collection of the newest in footwear on Friday and Saturday. They are the original designs of Robinson's favorite couture shoe designer, Mr. Stanley, and they are exclusive with the J. W. Robinson Stores.

He has created an abundance of interesting silhouettes, fabulous new fabrics from France and Italy, unique ornamentation that is making the open shoe more delicate, more sophisticated, and more desirable.

Once again, black Patent Leather is one of the more desirable materials for Spring. This year, instead of having just small quantities of piping to garnish the Patent, large appliques of white calf to accentuate the beautiful sheen of the black patent are being shown.

Interesting new silhouettes involving the use of black patent with white calf, are being shown. One of these is an interesting application of banding across the ball of the foot and nothing else except the very slim striped heel and supporting halter.

In the collection, there are some very interesting fabrics from France, in particular, gold and silver lame are showing unusual interests. White Jacquard silk, beautifully woven with interesting designs made especially to be tinted any color to match a costume. The tinting reflects the beautiful woven design to add an additional sparkle that would not be apparent if the material were just plain weave.

Heels again are showing interesting and unusual treatments. There will be things such as engraving and beading, or rhinestones, applied to the heels together with interesting new dangle treatment that give a very seductive look to a strikingly simple silhouette.

The completely backless shoe is still growing in popularity, and this season's collection contains several models which prove this point. This year as in the past, all of the Mr. Stanley creations can be made on the lower midway heel as well as the high heel.

All indications point to the fact that the 1956 Spring and Summer season will be a fabulous year for open shoes. The open shoe has even invaded the field of Spectator shoes. Several models are available with very thin, built up leather heels and leather trim to match.

Playhouse to Present 'Fifth Season'

"The Fifth Season," Sylvia Reagan's comedy about the garment industry, will be presented by Herb Rogers at the Palm Springs Playhouse for one week, opening Tuesday evening, February 21, with Leo Fuchs, noted legitimate theater actor, in the starring role.

Sponsored by the Palm Springs Playhouse Guild, Rogers has assembled a cast including Teddy Hart, who has scored in both pictures and in such Broadway hits as "Room Service," Marrian Walters, who will play the feminine lead; Jeff Alexander, Sidney Breeze, Phyllis Flax and Helen Kiley. Michael Ferrall will direct the production.

"The Fifth Season" concerns two partners in the garment business who become involved in financial difficulties. An illicit romance enters the picture, with amusing complications.

Fuchs plays the role originated in New York by Menasha Sulnick. He has been doing the show at the Sombra Theater at Phoenix, Arizona.

"The Fifth Season" will be presented by Rogers nightly at 8:30 o'clock and will end its engagement on Sunday evening, February 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Volk and daughter Carolyn are guests at the Desert Inn. He is vice-president of Western Air Lines.

Miss Finchy, a charter member of the Club, leaves Sunday for a year of travelling to do organization work for the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs. Her tour will include Mexico City, Panama, and Havana, Cuba. She will be accompanied for part of the trip by Maria Correa.

Parisians Visit Relatives Here

Visitors at the home of Jean Alcalay and Lorraine Harper were relatives from Paris, France, who are in the United States for four months.

Cousins of Mrs. Alcalay, the visitors Julian Safala, a concert pianist, and Mr. and Mrs. Sol Safala, fell in love with Palm Springs. It was learned that Julian Safala recently appeared in a motion picture with Joan Crawford. After their visit here the Parisians departed for Arcadia to visit with other relatives.

Pruitts Have Buffet Dinner

A buffet dinner, preceded by cocktails, highlighted an evening of entertainment for a group of friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Pruitt, 1642 South Calle Marcus.

Among those present were their son Jim and his wife Barbara of Canoga Park, who with Miss Mary Harvey of La Jolla, were houseguests; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Peterson of Sherman Oaks; Mrs. Blanche Andrews, Mrs. Shelby Wegner of Palm Springs, and Major Mark Markley and Captain Ralph Hammock, both of Fort Lewis, Washington.

Witness Ritual of Knighting

Bob Rech, district deputy of the Knights of Columbus, his wife Emily, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Levert and their son Dallas, journeyed to Riverside to witness the knighting of Tom Ellison by Bishop Charles Buddy of San Diego. This is a rare ceremony in the Catholic world, it was pointed out, there being only 200 men so knighted. Rech, who has the title of Faithful Navigator in the Knights of Columbus organization, took part in the ceremony.

Following the bestowal of knighthood in the Francis de Sales Church, a reception for 300 was held in the Riverside Auditorium.

They find here more styling freshness and distinction—more snap and ginger and power thrill—more comfort and luxury—more ride stability and steadiness—and more structural solidity and pure automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

PHIL HARRIS, who was master of ceremonies for the Valentine supper-dance at Shadow Mountain Club, models the mink stole that was auctioned off that night. Interested observers at the table

Four Hundred Turn Out for Valentine Supper-Dance

Tables were set up in every alcove of the big diningroom at Shadow Mountain Club to accommodate the crowd of 400 people who attended the Catholic benefit supper-dance on Valentine's Night. Phil Harris did a masterly job of emceeing the affair and sang several of the songs for which he is famous.

The appearance of Billy Daniels, who came out between shows at the Chi Chi, highlighted the evening's program. He concluded his songs with his new film version of "Black Magic."

Exhibition dancing, including the mambo, the waltz and jitterbugging, was staged by Gordon and Ingrid Ayers of the Arthur Murray Dance Studio. Johnny Boyle sang "Albino Stallion" and "Cool, Cool Water," and Trav Rogers sang "Wagon Wheels," and Joni Wilson of the Palm House sang several numbers.

Between acts, the dance floor was crowded as the diners danced to the music of Al Harding's 10-piece orchestra.

A mink stole was auctioned off and sold to Elsinore Machris Gilliland for $2250.

The buffet featured fried chicken and had a variety of fancy desserts.

The affair was a benefit for all the Catholic Churches in the area and for St. Theresa School. Rev. Father O'Donohue, who with Monsignor Powers had charge of the reservations, expressed gratification with the results. He said he wished to personally thank all of the women who gave of their time and effort, and all the people who attended and help to make it such a big success.

Domestic Wrangles

NEW YORK—(AP)—Don't argue with your husband. You may be driving him to his death on the highway later.

One expert said that emotional upsets may cause as many highway accidents as careless driving or faulty brakes.

Leonard M. van Noppen, who supervises a car fleet that travels 30,000,000 miles yearly for the Universal C. I. T. Corp. said that studies show that thousands of motorists involved in accidents are physically fit and expert at the wheel. They cracked up because their emotions overthrew their usual alertness and judgment.

"When you know your emotions are at a depressed point, be extra careful," he said. "Better still, stay out of your car altogether. A motorist's biggest enemies are his own feelings."

He urged couples to avoid domestic arguments especially in the morning, when one or both may drive to work.

Sausage Supper

NEW YORK—(AP)—Pork sausage, a good buy these days, provides the basis for a hearty lunch or supper as well as a nourishing breakfast. Either link or bulk sausage can be combined with corn bread for an old-fashioned dinner. Pan fry 1 pound of the sausage according to directions on the package. Drain. Line the bottom of an 8-inch baking pan with waxed paper and arrange the sausage on it. Make corn bread batter from package mix and pour on the sausage. Bake according to package directions. Turn upside down on a hot platter. Remove pan and paper and serve hot with milk gravy made from sausage drippings.

Take a tip from vegetable growers and snip the tops off carrots and beets soon after they are pulled. The tops drain moisture from the root.

Give Dinner on Anniversary

The table was decorated in a Valentine motif Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bligh of Thunderbird entertained a small group of friends at cocktails and dinner at the Tennis Club. It was an anniversary celebration for the hosts.

In the party were the Addison Holtons, William Edrises, Roger Pages and Sam Taylors.

To achieve a warm, soft, and flattering effect, the experts advise, enough lighting fixtures should be properly placed in a home so that the light is diffused and balanced. This means a planned combination of wall and ceiling fixtures and portable lamps, so that overall illumination and special localized lighting are achieved.

High School Highlights

(This column, contributed by the High School Journalism class was written today by Joel Friedman.)

Life at Palm Springs High School came back to normal after a lengthened weekend due to Lincoln's Birthday. The school celebrated the holiday on Monday, in keeping with the new state ordinance.

The big news, of course, was the varsity basketball win at Elsinore, Friday. This victory placed Palm Springs in an excellent position in the race for the R. C. L. championship. The spirit of students has been increased immensely with this upsurge of basketball power and the whole school has gotten behind the Indians. Tuesday night, the local five met Beaumont at Beaumont, and although there was no rooters' bus for the game, a large Palms crowd was on hand. This Friday, the Indians will host Hemet on the local court.

Palm Springs High School's future varsity hoopers, the C's and D's climaxed the season by representing second place of the eastern division of the R. C. L. at San Jacinto. The eastern and western division champions and runners-up met at the annual tournament to decide who would be the top team in the circuit. But the Papooses found the Hemet Bull Pups too strong for them and were defeated in both tilts, 48 to 35 and 46 to 23.

ON SATURDAY, the annual University Day of Redlands University will be held for seniors throughout California and Arizona. Several students from P. S. H. S. will participate in the affair, which will consist of registration, lectures by various members of the educational staff, a special "hot dog feed," a program put on by the music and drama departments, an evening banquet, and, to cap the evening, a basketball game.

Tuesday was the deadline for the $6 payments for the College Entrance Examination Board tests to be given March 17. These tests are taken by thousands of high school juniors and seniors all over the country to ascertain how well the students will do in college entrance exams.

Interest over the newly released master plan for the high school additions is rising among all of the students. In fact, the art classes are planning to make a scale model of the announced improvements which would be placed in a position so that all students might get a better idea of these proposed additions.

PALM SPRINGS High School will have two representatives at the

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Eagan, a former Olympic boxer, took a roundhouse swing today at our athletes, our Olympic Committee and the Russians who are "making sports a propaganda machine."

Eagan, head of the finance committee which must raise $1,000,000 to send our team to Australia next November, challenged:

1. Lack of self-discipline and training among our athletes who are softened by "the gadgets of civilization."
2. The astuteness of the Olympic Track Committee which slanted June tryouts for the November events.
3. Russia's aim to "use victory for political purposes" to show the world that the capitalist nations are "effete."

EAGAN, FORMER chairman of the New York State Boxing Commission, also indicated interest in some form of government assistance to athletes.

"We try to keep the government from interfering in athletics," he explained. "But should we? I'm not convinced when I see the Russian athletes. I wonder if Uncle Sam shouldn't take more interest in his youth."

Only 36 per cent of American youths, he asserted, can pass physical tests which are passed by 96 per cent of Europe's youngsters.

"Our athletes are far too prone to ride in automobiles and, on the whole, train too little," he told the New York Kiwanis Club. "We had our finest Olympic hockey team in the winter games but in the third period they were 'dished' and the Russian team hadn't hardly broken a sweat."

CRITICIZING the Olympic Track Committee for its planning, Eagan challenged the holding of tryouts in June for the November competition.

"There's no guarantee that those who are best in June will be best in November, particularly without any competition in between," he pointed out. "We should at least have a clinic of sorts at which our athletes could train from June to October. Why be so mild? The Russians do it."

Charging the public with indifference to sport although it is "one of the pillars of our civilization," Eagan said that as example there formerly were 30 athletics clubs in New York City alone while now there are only two.

"Russia, grimly training 4,000-6,000 athletes, will have its greatest team in the 1956 Olympics," he contended. "We have only 30,000 athletes registered in the AAU. We have the brains, the ability and the size and most of our records are better, but we operate from a much more narrow base."

ANOTHER threatening factor, he said, was the fact that many of our college athletes may not compete in the games because it might mean the loss of a semester of college.

"One hundred years from now, if we don't get on the athletic ball," Eagan warned, "we just might fall like the civilizations of old."

And, as for the moment, he concluded, come November the Russians might make us look "like a bunch of amateurs" unless we start right now to get up the money and the muscles.

Swaps 'Probable' Starter Friday

ARCADIA (AP)—Trainer M. A. Tenney said today Swaps is a "probable starter" Friday in the $15,000 Los Angeles County Fair Handicap at Santa Anita Park.

"I can't say definitely as yet whether he will go or not," Tenney said. "Certain factors will have some bearing on it, including track conditions, but I hope he'll run."

Briggs Given Job to Find Husky Coach

SEATTLE (AP)—George Briggs, ex-Marine captain and new athletic director of the University of Washington, today was faced with the task of finding a new football coach for the school.

Briggs, 31, was named yesterday to head the school's athletic program. His selection did not quiet the howls of alumni.

One group of alumni charged Briggs, former assistant athletic director at the University of California, was merely a "rubber stamp" for H. P. (Dick) Everest, university vice-president. A spokesman for the group said petitions would be circulated demanding that Everest be fired.

BRIGGS DENIED the charges. "That is entirely incorrect," he said. "I am coming to Washington with no strings attached. I am not involved on either side of any previous arguments. I don't belong in any previous conflicts and I don't intend to get into them."

Briggs was selected from a list of five candidates who had been combed from about 40 possibilities. "The university was looking for a young and capable administrator who had been in athletics but who could come to Washington absolutely free of previous connections with the local athletic situation," Everest said. "The new director in our judgment fits the requirements exactly."

BRIGGS' FIRST JOB is to hire a football coach to replace Johnny Cherberg.

Joe Kuharich, coach of the Washington Redskins of the National Football League, was being mentioned most prominently as the man who will be chosen to succeed Cherberg.

MORRISON ON GOLF

By ALEX J. MORRISON
Author of "A New Way to Better Golf" Teacher of Champions

A SENSATIONAL 63 by Tommy Bolt setting a new record for the par 71 Rancho golf course during the 1956 L. A. Open again gives club swingers much to think and talk about. As in every case there are three main items to be considered.

One, the player; two, the conditions under which he performs, and three, his performance.

Tommy Bolt, man and golfer, takes a bit of knowing. Immediately following his record round he was brought into the press room for interviews.

As I added my congratulations Tommy clasped my hand firmly and simply showed full appreciation and understanding in his eyes.

But I know that he has not always understood the things I have said to him, though accepting them courteously.

I suspect that even those quite close to him do not fully understand his varied performances. About these performances we need understand only one thing. They are proof that Tommy intends to shoot scores lower than any golfer ever dreamed of making if he has half a chance of doing so. For this he is being tabbed a perfectionist.

"HE FIGHTS himself, his caddy and everybody else until he gets the perfection he desires," declared pro Harry Bassler.

Measuring his 63 by iron or wood club shots to the greens he missed six of these bad enough to keep him from getting birdies on that number of holes. Making half of these would have lowered his total to 60. Considering his putting on the same basis, the average length of putts made was 12 feet, of those missed, 11 feet. He sank 12 putts and missed 6.

When a putter is really hot its owner comes mighty close to making all putts.

Assuming Tommy made all but three you can see what he must have had in mind on that fine afternoon.

Peacock Favored

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Billy Peacock, who is after a bantamweight title fight with champion Robert Cohen of France, is a heavy favorite tonight to defeat young Joey Benson of Los Angeles in Olympic Auditorium's scheduled 10-round main event.

Blasting Tommy Bolt's record 63, eight under par, for his second round over the Rancho course during the 1956 L. A. Open again shows just what the tournament veteran can do with accurate irons and a hot putter.

Boyd Plans for Move into Title Bout this Year

CHICAGO (AP)—A kid with a heart who had to take $100 bouts for a year to get over being "soft," middleweight Bobby Boyd, planned today to move into a scrap this year for a world title.

Boyd, 22, and his manager Bernie Glickman, contended he earned the chance Wednesday night when he took the best punches of Argentine Eduardo Lausse for 10 rounds and won a majority decision for Lausse's first loss in 33 fights.

Boyd proved he wasn't "soft" and he had heart to spare when he tangled with the fiery hard-punching South American. Lausse tagged him with a right to the body and a left to the head and once scored a knockdown when he got Boyd on the back of the neck with the left as Boyd was ducking away on one foot.

It was Lausse's seventh defeat against 63 wins in 73 fights and Boyd's 38th win against six losses in 46 battles.

Outdoor Polo to Return to Desert Area

Western District Governor Asked to Attend Match

The governor of the western district of the United States Polo Association has received an invitation to bring a team from the bay area to compete in an outdoor polo match at Desert Air Hotel's airstrip.

The outdoor match, the first on the desert in more than 15 years, will follow the Pacific Coast 10-goal Championship Tournament presently being played at Shadow Mountain Stables and Palm Springs Polo Grounds.

THE POLO GOVERNOR, L. C. Smith, was here from San Francisco last weekend to referee at Shadow Mountain Stables during the first of the three-weekend matches. He was unable to give a definite answer to the invitation, but said he would like to bring a four-man team for the inaugural event.

The outdoor match will bring polo to the desert on a field which is considered by many to be a better way of playing polo. Proponents of outdoor polo say the horses and players have more opportunity to extend themselves.

AN OUTDOOR FIELD is 850 feet long, compared to the 350-foot length of the arena or indoor field.

The present 10-goal championship matches, which are led by the Red Diamonds after the first round, are played on an indoor field.

The Red Diamonds and the San Francisco teams, now competing in the championship tournament, are scheduled to start the outdoor series of matches March 3 and 4.

One man will have to be added to each present team. Three men play indoor polo, four play outdoor.

Wind is Hazard in Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The nation's top professional golf crew set out on the opening round of the 29th annual Texas Open Tournament with chilly north crosswinds expected to toughen trouble-some par over the Fort Sam Houston Golf Club layout.

There wasn't a standout favorite in the field, despite the presence of practically every name player on the tour except Cary Middlecoff, but if it stays windy, jaunty Jimmy Demaret might be as good a bet as any to grab off the big slice of the $20,000 prize pot.

SPORTS in the SUN

BECOMING the highest paid player in the history of baseball, Red Sox slugger Ted Williams (left) signs his 1956 contract calling for an estimated $110,000. Last year the big outfielder was paid $98,000 for 98 games and earned it by hitting for a .356 average, belting 28 homers and driving in 83 runs. Owner Tom Yawkey watches in his Fenway Park (Boston) office. (International)

Ohrt Ends Annual Bicycle Jaunt to Palm Springs

Hans Ohrt, Beverly Hills cycle enthusiast and former U.S. bicycle champion, will forego his annual 124 mile jaunt from Beverly Hills to Palm Springs. It will be the first time in 13 years that he will not make the trip.

"There are too many freeways and no place for cyclists," he said. "Also, this year I am 61 so will try for shorter rides, hereafter."

Seven of the 13 bike trips Ohrt made to Palm Springs from Beverly Hills were tandem rides with Mrs. Ohrt.

During the 13 rides he has had many experiences, head winds which added hours to his time and tail winds which enabled him to pedal here in under eight hours. But, he added, every trip convinced him that most motorists were courteous.

Mr. and Mrs. Ohrt are already mapping plans to fly to Melbourne for the Olympic Games.

For the past few years he has gone to Europe where he served as United States representative at the big bicycle races there but will pass that up this year.

He still has hopes that the sport of cycle racing will be revived in the United States.

Doodles

By ROGER PRICE

"GALOSHES FOR A STORK"
This doodle was thought up by

Ian Ballantine, whose publishing company is putting out a thirty-five cent edition of a book I wrote called "In One Head & Out the OTHER". This book is a must for all doodlers because it explains Avoidism, a philosophy which will enable you to Avoid stuff like work, conversation, marriage and money. Many people don't realize that there are lots of things they can do these days without having a lot of money:—for instance, drown, catch diphtheria, starve to death, Doodle, etc. Mr. Ballantine says he feels that this book will literally sweep the country. And to make sure, he's equipped each copy with a socket in the back so you can fit it onto a broom handle.

left; Mrs. Clark, second from right, and Clark's mother. The two officers are brothers-in-law. Admiral Dunn (Annapolis 1923) was until his retirement two years ago, commandant of Naval Ordnance Plant in York, Pennsylvania. Both families are vacationing from the bay area. (Desert Sun Photo)

CONFIDENT LIVING

By Norman Vincent Peale

How to Get Free from Yourself

A successful business man and leading citizen of his midwestern community has not always been so outstanding a figure. In fact, not too many years ago, he was sentenced to prison for forging checks.

In prison, he peddled dope and broke all rules. He came to be classified as incorrigible. It seemed certain that he would spend most of his life behind bars.

Then, one day, he began to spit blood. The doctors said he had tuberculosis and, the next thing he knew, he was in the prison hospital with a raging fever.

The chaplain came to see him and said, "Son, I have to tell you you're going to die. Don't you want me to pray with you?"

The answer was short and impolite. "I haven't prayed since I was a kid, and I don't like preachers. Get away from me and leave me alone."

When, a bit later, the nurse took his temperature, he pulled the thermometer out himself and stared at it disbelievingly. It read one hundred and five degrees. That really frightened him. Then he heard the doctor say he had only a few hours to live.

He lay in the silence, his eyes closed, screened off from the rest of the ward. And then a queer thing happened. He seemed to hear a voice saying, "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil." It was unmistakably real, he says. "I saw no one. I heard no actual voice, yet I did hear those words."

He remembered learning that psalm as a boy and something in him now responded to it. "O.K., Lord," he said. "I've been wrong. I haven't lived the way I should have. Now I want to change and I give in to you. Make me a different person."

And that was all there was to it. But it was real, a real desire to change, and a sincere faith expres-

ed. Hour by hour his temperature dropped until it became normal. "It's a miracle," the prison doctor said. Completely recovered, he was a changed man—gentle, kindly, a model prisoner. This remarkable transformation came to the attention of the authorities before long and some months later the Governor himself sent for him and told him, "You are free."

"Governor," he answered, "I was freed the night the Lord spoke to me, freed from my weaknesses. I'm very lucky."

But it was more than luck. Is it luck that makes a man rise out of himself and be better than he ever imagined himself to be? Was it luck that took Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday we celebrate this weekend, from his wilderness log cabin to the White House and to human immortality?

No, it isn't luck at all. It is something much deeper and much sounder. It is the power to fill our consciousness with the real truth about who we are, what we can do, and what we can be. Each of us is a child of God and he has given us the power to overcome all defeat. The truth is stated in the words, "The Kingdom of God is within you," meaning that in essence God's power, peace and strength are with you, waiting to be made an actuality in your life and activity. Learn to live as a true child of God, with real power in your life. When you feel like voicing discouragement, when you are overwhelmed by difficulties, try saying this, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" Drive that thought deeply into your mind until you actually feel the truth of that affirmation. You will be conscious of a strange new strength rising within you. And if you encourage its growth and live according to God's laws, you will be free from every weakness. You will have new confidence.

Real freedom is found in self-confidence. And self-confidence is God-confidence. A man who has self-confidence, without God has nothing to build on. But if you have confidence in God, and in God working in you, you can live a tremendous life.

And isn't that what we are meant to do? To live tremendous lives? Don't you settle for anything less.

Mayor Poll Predicts 'Yes' from Ike

Knowland's Name Is Filed in Minnesota Primary

By UNITED PRESS
Democratic presidential candidates today hammered at the Eisenhower administration.
The President hoped to bag some quail in Georgia while possibly pondering whether to run for a second term.

And Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland kept his hat poised over the presidential race just in case the President decides to retire.

Knowland's name was filed yesterday in the Minnesota presidential primary despite the medical blessing given Mr. Eisenhower's heart two days ago by his doctors. Knowland can withdraw his name until Feb. 25.

IN WASHINGTON a poll of 25 mayors attending a conference showed they overwhelmingly believe Mr. Eisenhower will run again. Of the 13 Democrats, 10 Republicans and two independents polled 19 said Mr. Eisenhower would seek re-election.

But Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) said at New Orleans he doesn't believe Mr. Eisenhower will run for a second term. However, Long said he "wouldn't be surprised" to see Mr. Eisenhower run for Vice-President on a ticket headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

ADLAI STEVENSON, Democratic presidential candidate, opened a campaign swing through the inter-mountain states with a speech at Boise, Idaho.
He told 700 Democrats Wednesday night at a $5-a-plate rally that the "foolish phrases" of the administration showed the Republicans' "failure to grasp the basic principles" of the last 50 years.

Stevenson said the existence of slums, "forms of depression in some areas," crowded highways and classrooms "stand as the failures" of the Republicans.

SEN. ESTES Kefauver (D-Tenn.), Stevenson's political rival, said at Ocala, Fla., the administration is "falling behind in the development of atomic energy for commercial use."
Kefauver also attacked the administration on the farm issue, saying "hundreds of thousands of small farmers have been liquidated by the price-cost squeeze" under the Republicans.

But in San Francisco, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson charged that wage increases for labor in the food processing and distributing industries were largely responsible for the cost-price squeeze on farmers.

Most of the increases, Benson said, were "paid for by ranchers and farmers—who paid it by taking lower prices for meat animals."

Optimist Club zone speaking contest will be held in Palm Springs in April, President Bill Whiteley announced this week.

The local contest will be conducted before that time, with entry open to boys 15 years of age and under.

The club meets each Wednesday noon at the Ranch Club.

Lanza Testifies in Teitelbaum Fur Theft Probe

LOS ANGELES (U-P)—A county Grand Jury investigation which already has included testimony by singer Mario Lanza resumed today into police charges that furrier Al Teitelbaum "faked" a $200,000 robbery of his swank fur salon.
Lanza, a close personal friend of the 40-year-old Teitelbaum, testified yesterday for 45 minutes before the jury. The singer said it was "coincidental" that he drove up to Teitelbaum's swank Beverly Hills fur salon last Dec. 27 only a few minutes after the purported robbery occurred.

Teitelbaum reported he was robbed of more than $130,000 worth of furs in December, 1954. Lloyds of London, however, refused to pay the claim and the case is in litigation.

Beverly Hills police charged Teitelbaum, who also operates a Palm Springs store, staged the Dec. 27 (1955) robbery because he needed the insurance money to meet business debts. Teitelbaum's attorney, Isaac Pachit, said the furrier had assets of about $2 million.

Organization of a Model Club at the Palm Springs Youth Center was completed last night, with 29 teen-agers present, Director Carl Plate reported.

Don DuBoise and Jerry Stickler have been named adult advisors, with the following members named temporary chairmen: Airplanes, Larry Nelson; autos, Don Brown, and boats, Weston Naef.

The club, for boys and girls, will meet every Wednesday night.

Laws Demanded to Stop Graft and Cheating in Veterans Housing

By UNITED PRESS
Congressmen called today for legislation to halt graft and cheating in the veterans housing program.

A House Veterans Affairs subcommittee issued a report charging veterans are losing housing benefits because of widespread graft, shoddy construction and favoritism.

The report criticized the Veterans Administration, the Justice Department and builders. Subcommittee members said they will introduce bills to tighten regulations governing the VA home loan guarantee program and end abuses.

Other congressional news:

GAS: The Senate Elections subcommittee voted unanimously to investigate whether "selfish interests" are trying to use big money to influence congressional votes and swing political elections.

The investigation stems from an oil company's lawyer's unsuccessful attempt to contribute $5 $100 bills to Sen. Francis Case's political campaign fund.

urged the House Commerce Committee to approve legislation to ban liquor advertising by newspapers, magazines, radio and television. Witnesses said such a ban would protect the nation's youth and morals.

UN-AMERICAN: Two former government employees refused to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether they are or ever were Communist party members. Henry Rhine, Louisville, Ky., union official, and Marcel Kistin, Arlington, Mass., invoked the Fifth Amendment 81 times in refusing to answer certain questions.

TRADE: John Williams, a machine tool expert for the Defense Department, told the Senate Investigating subcommittee that Western nations are giving Soviet war production a three to five year boost by selling machine tools to Russia. The subcommittee is looking into international controls on strategic trade with Iron Curtain nations.

FLOOD: Deputy Housing Administrator Frank J. Meistrell said the federal government should take the lead in providing flood insurance because private companies are unwilling to do it alone.

PLANE PROFITS: The House Armed Services Investigating subcommittee opened an inquiry to find out whether military aircraft manufacturers are making excessive profits. J. L. Atwood, president of North American Aviation, Inc., called to testify first, said that any government move to cut profits on military orders would slow the defense effort. He added that in the past nine years his firm has made a profit of only 3.32 percent on its sales.

AIR FORCE: Trevor Gardner, former Air Force research chief, secretly told a House Appropriations subcommittee the Air Force needs 3.5 billion dollars more than requested by President Eisenhower. Gardner quit his post in a row over defense economies—especially in development of guided missiles.
